Section 2 - Comprehensive Review and Analysis Update

A. COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW AND ANALYSIS UPDATE:

Please provide an update on the comprehensive review and analysis in your State Plan. Include a description of the adequacy of health care and other services, supports, and assistance that people with developmental disabilities receive 1) in ICF(MR)s; and 2) through home and community-based waivers.(limit 4,000 characters):

In an effort to be responsive to the emerging needs of the Guam community during these tough economic times, the Guam Developmental Disabilities Council (GDDC) has made some amendments to its 5-Year State Plan. The changes made by the Council are intended to address the unique needs of the Guam community that continues to come to the attention of the Council. The 5-Year State Plan (2007-2011) of the GDDC addresses specific information that is required by the U.S. Administration on Developmental Disabilities (ADD), and includes the Council's "Areas of Emphasis" and the resulting goals and objectives for the current five years. Based on local needs assessment and other forms of information gathering, the Council has identified specific FY 2009 initiatives to continue in FY 2010. Three (3) of the nine (9) areas of emphasis have been selected as priorities for FY 2010. These are Employment, Health, and Education. Employment has always been a very important area of emphasis for individuals with developmental disabilities on Guam. Individuals with developmental disabilities are significantly under-represented in the workforce, despite decades of employment and pre-employment services. Children with disabilities are not given an equal opportunity to learn of and dream about possible future careers, especially in school settings. The growing shortage of supported employment services, made worse by reimbursements that do not cover the providers costs, provide an additional barrier to gainful employment. Limited access to assistive technology and education/training for consumers, co-workers, and employers further limit employment opportunities. Health is also a very important area of emphasis for the Council to focus on. Individuals with developmental disabilities continue to have limited access to primary care, specialist and dental care due to capped Medicaid reimbursement rates. Mental health services for individuals with developmental disabilities are difficult to access, not only due to funding, but often from mistaken beliefs that individuals with developmental disabilities cannot benefit from mental health services. Health care services and funding are in a state of flux on Guam. Individuals with developmental disabilities have limited access to physicians and clinicians who understand their condition, as well as limited access to medical offices and equipment that are physically accessible and that accommodate their needs. Education continues to be a major area of emphasis for the Council. Many individuals with developmental disabilities have had limited opportunities to learn self-determination skills. The earlier an individual receives training and educational opportunities to practice self-determination skills, the more likely he or she is to use them effectively and responsibly. Although self-determination skill development could be built into the individualized Education Plan (IEP), particularly with students in transition from school to adult life, the IEP seldom includes opportunities to gain these skills. Families, especially those with limited English proficiency, experience delays in information and access to services. There is a gap in services and supports between the ages of three and five. Many students still have limited access to an appropriate education.

B. Waiting List-Please report any change in number (from last year to this year) of individuals with developmental disabilities on waiting lists for services.

Comments: (Maximum 2,500 characters) The survey results was taken from the "2010 Tri-Agency Consumer Conference" held on August 28, 2010, 8:00am - 2:30pm @ the Hilton Resort & Spa Guam. The workshop focused on the DD Act, Education "Focusing on the "I" in IEPs", Health Care Reform, Voter Accessibility, ADA, Employment, and Social Security Benefits. About 200 participants signed in, however, only 107 submitted the consumer satisfaction survey. 43 individuals with disabilities, 39 families, and 25 listed under others. The survey indicated a high level of satisfaction. Overall, the participants agreed that they achieved their stated purpose attending the conference. Below are some comments: -The information given is helpful, pamphlets helpful, knowing where to get services and how to go about getting that particular service, helpful information, information relieves stress, knowing where to go for help is healing, everything continues only with good work, pamphlets, services, and procedures, others who have been through, gave some information in what was needed to get done so you don't have to run around, it was helpful for me to get more of my needs and wants, some health care information and what is out there for me to use, handouts were very explanatory, not sure but everything is good, learning about SS, Access of Center on Voter Accessibility, and DOE presentation, general information about service, the difference agencies available to us, IDK, new information, my first time, but very informative, now I know what to do and where to go, information on paperwork and handouts will enhance my day-to-day living, everything was basically helpful, and gave brief detailed information, very helpful are the Developmental Disabilities Council, Department of Labor, DVR, and Social Security Administration, it was very helpful to me, the information I have received make me aware of the agencies available, what's more helpful to me now after this day is well that I now know more about what I can do for my nephew, it help me to know about other people's disabilities not only about me, all the information from the different agencies, learning more about the IEP, helpful – actually given an opportunity to ask questions, helpful is SS and IEP, the clear explanations of the individual agencies regarding their functions, etc.
